Debtor.)

GENERAL ORDER

Directing the Clerk of Court to Publish Certain Documents
on the Court's Web site: <http://www.alnb.uscourts.gov/>

Because this case may involve over 60,000 asbestos claimants and approximately 1000 other creditors, many of whom are outside of the Court's geographical location, the Court finds that it is in the best interest of the public, the Court, and the Clerk of Court, that certain documents be made available through the Court's Web site located at <http://www.alnb.uscourts.gov/>.

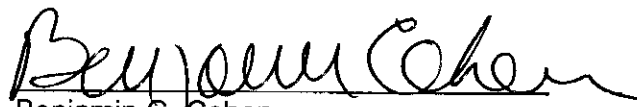

The Clerk is therefore directed to publish documents selected by the Court on the Court's Web site: <http://www.alnb.uscourts.gov/>. Physical access to these documents and all documents not published on the Web site shall be provided in the normal course.

Along with the documents published on the Web site, the clerk shall also publish this notice:

Because this case may involve over 60,000 asbestos claimants and approximately 1000 other creditors, many of whom are outside of the Court's geographical location, the Court finds that it is in the best interest of the public, the Court, and the Clerk of Court, that certain documents be made available through the Court's Web site located at <http://www.alnb.uscourts.gov/>. Documents that are not available through this Web site may be obtained from debtor's counsel or from the Court through its regular process. Additional public information about this case, including docket entries and claims register, is available from PacerNet, a national electronic federal court case database. Information about PacerNet may be obtained from this Web site under the listing "Public Access." General information about Chapter 11 bankruptcy cases is available from the Administrative Office of U.S. Courts at <http://www.uscourts.gov/bankbasic.pdf>.
